About This Game

MicroRC Simulation is a driving simulator for radio-controlled toy cars.

You must practise to learn the different tracks and conquer the podium. This is not an arcade game, as practise is required to win the races.

The A.I. doesn't follow a predefined path, but reads the track in real time.

Get in game experience to unlock the accessories that will help you to win against highly skilled competitors.

I would rate this game 1/10. The game only has about 10 tracks and you can only have up to 4 cars in your race. But wait. There's more. The loading screen's graphics just wants to make you barf. But most importantaly, it looks like a guy made it in 10 minutes and uploaded it to Steam. I played for only 1 minute and it was already the worst game I have ever played.. Not a single update since release...
